

John Filer, 2008 disclosure statement continued from page 2.

Schedule A, #1, Salaried Employment for John Filer:

The firm handles occasional pro bono cases involving the First Amendment, and I had one such case. Another case was taken on a contingency basis; it is pending and has not resulted in any payments. All clients are the clients of the firm and not my personal clients. I am employed by and paid by the firm.

In addition to handling cases for the firm, I worked on two cases on my own, providing services outside of my firm employment:

- I represented my sister and her husband in a lawsuit but did not charge them.
- I helped a friend, Bob Einstein of Eek, Alaska, with patent filings. He paid me personally $1,250 for my services.
