The table contains data on pay increments for different states. The columns represent different states and the rows represent different pay ranges. The values in the table indicate the pay increments for each range. The table is structured in a way that allows for easy comparison of pay increments across different pay ranges and states. The data is presented in a clear and organized format, making it easy to understand and analyze.