Dear PERS MEMBER:

Our records indicate you are a former member of the Public Employees' Retirement System (PERS) and that, after you terminated employment, you took a refund of your employee contributions.

In 2005, the 24th Alaska Legislature passed Senate Bill 141 (SB141) containing comprehensive retirement system changes. As a former member of the PERS, these changes may affect you.

Effective July 1, 2010, SB 141 repeals the provision* that allows former members to reinstate service by repaying their refunded PERS contributions, affecting your ability to reinstate service for regular retirement, conditional service or public service pension and health benefits.

If you have no desire or intention to reemploy in an Alaska PERS eligible position, there is nothing you need to do.

If you would like to reinstate your PERS service and former tier status, you must reemploy in an Alaska PERS eligible position not later than June 30, 2010. If you do not reemploy in an eligible position on or before June 30, 2010, Alaska Statute prohibits you from reinstating this service, and you will not be able to reestablish your tier benefit status.

To find a list of current PERS employers, please go to this page on our website: doa.alaska.gov/drb/pers/pers-employers.html.
