Interest Income Fund

Investment Objective

To maximize current income, while maintaining principal stability.

How The Fund Works

The Fund invests in a diversified portfolio of synthetic investment contracts (SICs). SICs are issued by banks and insurance companies that meet stringent credit standards. Supporting securities for SICs typically include US Treasury/Agency obligations, mortgage and asset-backed securities, as well as investment-grade corporate bonds.

Investor Profile

The Fund is geared toward investors who seek a steady, reliable, attractive rate of return with relatively low risk. The Fund may also be appropriate for investors who seek to balance out greater levels of risk that they have assumed elsewhere in their portfolios. An investment in the Fund can generally be expected to deliver a higher rate of return than a money market fund, and over time, is expected to deliver returns that are comparable to intermediate-term, investment-grade bond portfolios.

Fund Benchmark

Due to the unique structure of the Fund, a comparison benchmark does not exist. However, many investors in a stable value fund like the Fund will compare their longer-term performance against money market funds and/or intermediate-term bond funds.

Fund Management

Investment services for the Interest Income Fund are provided by T. Rowe Price Associates, Inc.

The Fund has 3 main components:

- 1) The cash reserve segment provides liquidity for participant initiated withdrawals.
- 2) The structured payout segment seeks to provide cash for continuous reinvestment at prevailing interest rate levels and maintains a relatively short average maturity.
- 3) The constant duration segment has a longer average maturity and seeks to generate added return.

A Synthetic Investment Contract (SIC) consists of:

- 1) A fixed-income portfolio managed within agreed-upon guidelines.
- 2) A contract by an insurance company or bank called a "wrap". The wrap provides protection against market volatility by smoothing out the returns that investors experience.

T. Rowe Price Associates, Inc. is registered as an investment adviser under the Investment Advisers Act of 1940.
