Risk versus Potential Return

As a whole, the options available to you fall on the Risk Spectrum—low risk to high risk—as follows:

Generally, the greater an investment's potential return over time, the greater its level of short-term price volatility, or risk. When assessing risk, a short-term investment fund would typically appear on the very low end of the risk/return scale. A very aggressive growth fund might be depicted at the very high end of the scale. The chart to the right shows the relative position of each investment option on the risk/return scale.

Administrative Expenses

Expenses are charged to your account in order to cover the cost of administration of the plan. There are two types of fees:

Monthly — 0.162% annual rate on assets (0.00162 / 12 x month-end asset balance) — These charges will be assessed to your individual accounts against all investment options in both the employee and employer accounts. The fee is calculated on the prior month's ending balance and is assessed in the first week of the month.

Annual – $35 – for actively contributing participants, $25 – for noncontributing members. These charges will be assessed after the first payroll contribution has been processed each new year. The charges are applied proportionally against all investment options in both the employee and employer accounts. For State of Alaska employees, this will occur in January. For political subdivision employees this will occur in February.

1. Specialty funds invest in a limited number of companies and are generally non-diversified. As a result, changes in market value of a single issuer could cause greater volatility than with a more diversified fund.

2. An index is not professionally managed, does not have a defined investment objective, and does not incur fees or expenses. Therefore, performance of an index fund will generally be less than its benchmark index. You cannot invest directly in an index.

4. Foreign investments involve special risks, including currency fluctuations, economic and political instability, and differences in accounting standards.

5. Equity securities of companies with relatively small market capitalization may be more volatile than securities of larger, more established companies.

6. The benchmark used for comparison with the SSgA Global Balanced Fund is a combination of 60% MSCI ACWI Index, 30% BarCap US Aggregate Bond Index, and 10% Citigroup World Government Bond ex-US Index.

7. The Alaska Balanced Trust and Alaska Long-Term Balanced Trust are not mutual funds. They are common trust funds established by T. Rowe Price Trust Company under Maryland banking law, and their units are exempt from registration under the Securities Exchange Act of 1933. Investments in the Trusts are not deposits of, or guaranteed by, the U.S. government or its agencies or T. Rowe Price Trust Company and are subject to investment risks, including possible loss of principal. They invest in other common trust funds, such as the Alaska Large-Cap Trust, according to their respective investment guidelines. Investment option detail sheets are available on the website at www.state.ak.us/drj and contain detailed information pertaining to the investment mix of each of the Trusts available as investment options. The Trusts were incepted on 6/23/06 through the conversion of investment portfolios that were incepted as of the inception date listed. The returns shown are linked returns of the investment portfolios and the Trusts. Prior to 6/23/06 these returns represent the historical returns of the prior investment portfolios and are net of the actual investment management, accounting, and custody fees incurred by the portfolios. After 6/23/06 the returns use the historical returns of the Trusts, and are net of the actual investment management, accounting, and custody fees applicable to the Trusts. Total returns include changes in principal value, reinvested dividends, and capital gains distributions. Investment returns of the Trusts will vary and past performance cannot guarantee future results.

8. U.S. Treasury securities are guaranteed as to the timely payment of principal and interest if held to maturity. Fund shares are neither issued nor guaranteed by the US Government.

9. A bond fund's yield, share price and total return change daily and are based on changes in interest rates, market conditions, economic and political news and the quality and maturity of its investments. In general bond prices fall when interest rates rise, and vice versa.

10. For 10 Years or Since Inception, if the investment option has not been in existence for 10 years, returns shown are since inception.

11. The investment management fees for the Russell 3000, US Real Estate Investment Trust Index, World Equity ex-US Index, US Long Treasury Index, IS Treasury Inflation Protected Securities Index, and the World Government Bond ex-US Index vary based on total assets of all participants in each fund.

12. The returns of the Alaska Balanced Trust, Alaska Long-Term Balanced Trust, and Alaska Target 2025 Trust cannot be directly compared to any one index. Therefore, customized benchmarks have been created as follows: For the Alaska Balanced Trust: 44% Barclays Capital. Govt/Credit Index, 19% Barclays Capital. GNMA Index, 2% Citigroup 90-day Treasury bills, 30% S&P 500 Index, 3% Russell 2500 Index, and 2% MSCI EAFE Index. For the Alaska Long-Term Balanced Trust: 27% Barclays Capital. Govt/Credit Index, 12% Barclays Capital. GNMA Index, 1% Citigroup 90-day Treasury bills, 51% S&P 500 Index, 5% Russell 2500 Index, and 4% MSCI EAFE Index. For the Alaska Target 2025 Trust: 5.5% Barclays Capital. Govt/Credit Index, 2.5% Barclays Capital. GNMA Index, 2% Citigroup 90-day Treasury bills, 76.5% S&P 500 Index, 8% Russell 2500 Index, and 5.5% MSCI EAFE Index. However, as the Alaska Target 2025 Trust's asset allocations change pursuant to its predetermined schedule, the percentages applicable to the underlying benchmark components will change accordingly.

13. The Alaska Money Market Trust ("Master Trust") is not a mutual fund. It is a common trust fund established by T. Rowe Price Trust Company under Maryland banking law, and its units are exempt from registration under the Securities Exchange Act of 1933. Investments in the Master Trust are not deposits of, or guaranteed by, the U.S. government or its agencies or T. Rowe Price Trust Company and are subject to investment risks, including possible loss of principal. The Master Trust invests in another common trust fund ("Money Market Trust") and an investment option detail sheet is available on the website www.state.ak.us/drj and contains detailed information pertaining to the investment mix of the Money Market Trust's investments. The Money Market Trust was incepted on 6/23/06 through the conversion of an investment portfolio that was incepted as of the inception date listed. The returns shown are linked returns of the investment portfolio and the Master Trust. Prior to 6/23/06, these returns represent the historical returns of the prior investment portfolio and are net of the actual investment management, accounting, and custody fees incurred by the portfolio. After 6/23/06, the returns use the historical returns of the Master Trust, and are net of the actual investment management, accounting, and custody fees applicable to the Master Trust. Total returns include changes in principal value, reinvested dividends, and capital gains distributions. Investment returns of the Master Trust will vary and past performance cannot guarantee future results.

14. An actively-managed fund is one in which the fund manager buys, holds and sells a portfolio of stocks and/or bonds which are consistent with the fund's stated investment objective. Using a variety of methods, the active fund manager attempts to select funds that will outperform the market.

15. To be passively managed means to buy and hold a well-diversified portfolio of securities. Passive managers buy a portfolio of securities that comprise a market index while active managers select specific securities to attempt to outperform an index.

16. The account owner is responsible for keeping the assigned PIN confidential. Please contact Great-West Retirement Services immediately if you suspect any unauthorized use.

17. Access to KeyTalk and the Web site may be limited or unavailable during periods of peak demand, market volatility, systems upgrades/maintenance, or other reasons.
