DIRECTIONS: As a compensated elected official of a Public Employees' Retirement System (PERS) covered employer that participates in the Defined Contribution Retirement (DCR) Plan, you have the opportunity to participate in the PERS DCR Plan. Within 30 days after your term of office begins, you must decide to either waive membership rights or become a contributing member of the PERS DCR Plan. Under Alaska Statute 39.35.725, Participation of Elected Officials, your employer must enroll you in the PERS DCR Plan unless:

- Your covered employer has not designated elected officials under AS 39.35.957 as a classification of employees entitled to participate in the plan.
- You waive PERS DCR Plan membership by signing a written waiver which is filed with the Division of Retirement and Benefits. To be eligible to waive participation in the PERS DCR Plan, you must have had no previous employment under the system with this political subdivision or have retired under the system.

If you are currently employed as a full-time PERS or Teachers' Retirement System (TRS) member, or you are retired, please contact the Division of Retirement and Benefits at the phone number listed above to find out if this participation will benefit you.

I hereby elect to: (check one)

- Waive membership in the PERS effective upon my employment as an elected official.
Note: I understand that waiving my participation is irrevocable for the entire period of elected official service AND any employment for this political subdivision. I further understand that credited service cannot be claimed for periods when waivers are or have been in effect.
- Elect to become a member of the PERS effective upon my employment as an elected official.
